

New York University
A private university in the public service

Office of Financial Aid
 25 West 4th Street
 New York, NY 10012

Zachary

BEFORE APPEAL

New York University is pleased to offer you the following financial aid award for the 2008-2009 academic year.

Source:	$ Fall	$ Spring	$ Total
Tisch Scholarship	10,000	10,000	20,000
Federal Work - Study Eligibility	2,000	2,000	4,000
Expected Perkins Loan	1,200	1,200	2,400
Suggested Stafford Loan	1,750	1,750	3,500
Suggested PLUS Loan	12,863	12,862	25,725
Total Awards:	27,813	27,812	55,625

Your award is based on the assumption that you will enroll for a minimum of 16 points in the fall and 16 points in the spring semester in the Tisch School of the Arts in 2008-2009. It is presumed that you will live on campus. Any need-based aid has been offered under the assumption that your FAFSA data is correct. If any of these assumptions are inaccurate or change during the academic year you are required to inform the Office of Financial Aid immediately so that any applicable adjustments may be made. Failure to notify the Office of Financial Aid of such changes in a timely manner can result in delays or return of funds.

Please note that you must notify the Office of Financial Aid if you expect to receive aid that is not listed above. This may include employer tuition remission, and outside scholarships. Please refer to the OFA website to learn more about how your package may need to be adjusted.

The Financial Aid Guide included with your first award letter (also found at www.nyu.edu/financialaid) describes how your aid was determined, how to secure your aid, and next year's application deadline which is March 1, 2009. You may also wish to review NYU's payment plans at www.nyu.edu/financialaid to further assist you.

Your package includes Federal Work Study (FWS) eligibility. This means that you are eligible to earn up to the amount recommended in FWS. Students who earn FWS receive a biweekly paycheck. These funds are not applied towards tuition as a credit. Working through this program is optional, but does offer some benefits that other employment may not provide (for example, Federal Work Study earnings are excluded from your resources when you file your FAFSA next year). While there are many Federal Work Study opportunities to choose from, positions are not guaranteed. Please see the Financial Aid Guide for additional information on how to secure a position.

New York University
A private university in the public service

Office of Financial Aid
 25 West 4th Street
 New York, NY 10012

Zachary

APPEAL RESULTS

New York University is pleased to offer you the following financial aid award for the 2008-2009 academic year. This letter supersedes any previous correspondence from the Office of Financial Aid.

Source:	$ Fall	$ Spring	$ Total
Tisch Scholarship	10,000	10,000	20,000
Dean's Grant	1,000	1,000	2,000
Federal Work - Study Eligibility	2,000	2,000	4,000
Expected Perkins Loan	1,200	1,200	2,400
Suggested Stafford Loan	1,750	1,750	3,500
Suggested PLUS Loan	11,863	11,862	23,725
Total Awards:	27,813	27,812	55,625

Your award is based on the assumption that you will enroll for a minimum of 16 points in the fall and 16 points in the spring semester in the Tisch School of the Arts in 2008-2009. It is presumed that you will live on campus. Any need-based aid has been offered under the assumption that your FAFSA data is correct. If any of these assumptions are inaccurate or change during the academic year you are required to inform the Office of Financial Aid immediately so that any applicable adjustments may be made. Failure to notify the Office of Financial Aid of such changes in a timely manner can result in delays or return of funds.

Please note that you must notify the Office of Financial Aid if you expect to receive aid that is not listed above. This may include employer tuition remission, and outside scholarships. Please refer to the OFA website to learn more about how your package may need to be adjusted.

The Financial Aid Guide included with your first award letter (also found at) describes how your aid was determined, how to secure your aid, and next year's application deadline which is March 1, 2009. You may also wish to review NYU's payment plans at to further assist you.

Your package includes Federal Work Study (FWS) eligibility. This means that you are eligible to earn up to the amount recommended in FWS. Students who earn FWS receive a biweekly paycheck. These funds are not applied towards tuition as a credit. Working through this program is optional, but does offer some benefits that other employment may not provide (for example, Federal Work Study earnings are excluded from your resources when you file your FAFSA next year). While there are many Federal Work Study